Pramod Prashant
Masters in Software Engineering, communications engineer; manages an application development team.

Surendar Raman
PhD in Computer Science, customer service specialist; handles a technical call center of 120 customer service engineers.

Pramod and Surendar are two of over 16,000 professionals who are available to work for you on a Surlin Remote development team.

SurlinRemote is a new full-service remote staffing program designed to help small- and medium-sized software companies cost-effectively expand their development teams. Surlin Remote Teams are a flexible way to overcome challenging employment markets with a superior approach used by the largest and most successful corporations.

SurlinRemote is offered by Surlin Consultants Pvt Ltd (www.surlin.com), India's second-largest chain of recruitment firms with 25 offices across India. Surlin provides services for fortune 100 clients such as IBM, HP, Accenture, GE, AOL, Siemens, HSBC, American Express, and many other clients globally.

We are building a network of US-Based recruiting firm partners that can promote Surlin's Remote Team program to their existing customers. Firms can supplement their current recruiting services offering with an innovative solution that is completely fulfilled by Surlin, and we pay our partners up to 20% commission for lifetime of the project. You manage the customer relationship; we provide fulfillment, including a proposal and services for recruiting, housing, HR management, facilities and finance.

Can your technology clients use a new approach?

SurlinRemote turnkey development teams can be ready in less than two weeks, very cost effectively, with no employment headaches or long-term commitments. Our program is simple:

1. Tell us your staffing requirements
2. We'll send pre-screened resumé based on skill and seniority requirements; you remotely interview the ones you like, and pick your final team.
3. Your selected team works at our premises in India (on your desired schedule), reporting to your project manager or senior developer.

SurlinRemote services can work for you. Visit our Web site or call us in the US 24 hours a day.
